

The Prairie Light Review

Volume 25

Number 2 Once upon a time recently in...a land nearby

Article 26

Spring 5-1-2004

Abstraction no. 1

Fyodor Sakhnovski
College of DuPage

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr>

Recommended Citation

Sakhnovski, Fyodor (2004) "Abstraction no. 1," The Prairie Light Review: Vol. 25 : No. 2 , Article 26.
Available at: <https://dc.cod.edu/plr/vol25/iss2/26>

This Selection is brought to you for free and open access by the College Publications at DigitalCommons@COD. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Prairie Light Review by an authorized editor of DigitalCommons@COD. For more information, please contact orenick@cod.edu.

Abstraction no. 1

By Fyodor Sakhnovski

With the abandoned whole
With the deserted one in the entirety
One as with the furnace, the whole time connected
I'm held in the entirety by the whole standpoint
Examining modality from each point of view
Staring at the forecast time
Holding myself independently with the thing to be held together in total circumference
Of the great line totals
I try to arrive and test the fact that arrival adheres to the end
And afterwards, the edge in me appears
As a black square halo found in the horizon
Stands proportionately established in this spectacle
Exists as childbirth inside
Inside to be deficient
And with this question I grow in convenience
In me, the drizzle grows straightforwardly
I had to peel the things within the cell
And felt, unfortunately, the reason of the same